For Gents - leisure

	Trousers, shirts, underwear, socks, one pair each formal & informal ("trainers"/"sneakers"/"sports shoes"). One colour scheme is better (i.e. matching colours: Blue/Black, Brown). No more than two changes per day
	Slippers. For pool, beach or desert
	A Comb or hairbrush
	Passport, Air ticket, embarkation/disembarkation card and a pen all in travel agent docket in shirt pocket or in a dedicated cabin baggage sidepocket. Do not put valuables in your checkin (hold) luggage
	Train tickets and timetable, Hotel Vouchers and booking references separately, if applicable
	Handkerchiefs same colour scheme
	Wallet (do not carry it in your rear hip pocket in public. Not every country is Singapore)
	A suitable international PLUS/Cirrus ATM card, debit card or credit card hybrid.
	Cash (i.e. destination currency, if possible), not exceeding USD5,000 or equivalent
	Leather/Heavy Winter Jacket and sweaters (for cold climates during late autumn/winter)
	Toothbrush(es) & Toothpaste, razor with spare blades (in checked in baggage)
	Hardcopy of essential addresses and telephone numbers
	Watch with Alarm
	Booking Nos. and/or reservation printouts for attractions/events and other Traveller's Passes. If purchased in advance
	Mobile phone and charger with plugin adapter for Roaming (AIR)
	Digital camera with extra memory (cards/chips/sticks) and batteries
	Medication if required with its prescription if available, and a moisturiser for cold, or SPF 15 (35 for India/East Africa/ME) sunblock for hot weather. Some countries, including Dubai Airport, prescription may change from country to country
	Travel Insurance
	Neckties for formal occasions
	A large compressed laundry bag for used clothes, on longer trips

For Ladies - leisure (in addition to the above)

	Your purse and general purpose handbag(s)
	Essential toiletries and a small makeup kit including a handmirror
	Browse the web for the dress codes of your destination. In most places it's better to be more formally dressed (say, in a suit or jacket) than to be too casual. Conservativeness is also safer in the Middle East, where skirt lengths to the knee rather than bare legs are advisable
	A formal pair of shoes with a small heel would do for an evening out as well as a hotel with a dress code. A second, flat and comfortable slip-on pair is ideal for casual/exercise or travelling

For Ladies and Gents – Business

	Notebook computer/Laptop/Tablet PC with digital camera software and connectors
	Neckties or bows and lounge suit or other formal wear as appropriate for the destination
	Visiting cards and your business documents
